

Welcome to the Crail Community Hall Newsletter

The Christmas weekend was again well received by ever growing numbers of visitors. The fair was packed with stalls and showed a great mixture of nearly 30 local arts, craft and food and drink producers as well as our popular cafe run again by Monica.

On Saturday, the local choir treated us to a selection of their wonderful repertoire and the fair concluded with our Christmas Concert on Sunday, featuring two groups from St Andrews University who's outstanding quality and ability made, yet again, for an amazing concert night. It's always special when the large hall resounds with joyful and happy music, ranging from traditional Christmas songs to modern seasonal tunes.

The Sunday event was a concert of two halves—the first featuring an A Cappella performance by 'The Accidentals' and in the second half we welcomed 'The Collective'. Both groups more than lived up to expectations and were worthy followers in the footsteps of 'The Other Guys ' and 'The Madrigals'.

There are still two more events to come this year at the hall and the New Year will get off to a flying start, too.

Come along to meet 'The All Sorts' Sarah Power, Sarah Shorter, Grace Wain and Jane Monari, performing a repertoire encompassing opera, Motown, Lieder and Disney with a little bit of Christmas thrown in!

Classic barbershop in classical style.

Don't miss the 'Old Yule Tales' - seasonal stories retold by Riikka Palonen.
