Welcome to the Crail Community Hall Newsletter

Our theatre screenings have been proven extremely popular and are mostly sell-outs. We are looking to introduce new ideas to this concept and will be screening a silent movie in October. We will run a survey in the next few months to find out what your views are and what film you would like to see. More information will be circulated soon.

The next National Theatre Live screening will be the world premiere stage adaptation of Stanley Kubrick's comedy masterpiece Dr Strangelove, featuring Steve Coogan in multiple roles.

To fill the time between our theatre and film events, we are delighted that, on popular demand, we are able to welcome back Les Trois Blondes. With their Parisien Café Music, the group will bring a real French feel to Crail. Embrace the spirit and bring your own French food and drink, and dress up—if you dare.

Our first Sunday afternoon concert of the year with The Fountaineers was well received by a substantial audience. This concert was organised with the help of Live Music Now Scotland, an organisation that strives to make music accessible to everyone in Scotland. We are looking to work with them on a more regular basis and are hoping for your ongoing support for our concerts.

We'll close our spring Sunday afternoon concert series with a Jazz & Gin event. Enjoy Bancroft & Lyle playing a mix of original contemporary jazz-based songs alongside reimagined jazz classics and covers of songs by the likes of Suzanne Vega and Joni Mitchell. This will be followed by a Gin Tasting with Tayport Spirits.

See you soon!

Parisian Café Music is coming to Crail

Les Trois Blondes are Scotland's only Bal Musette band, playing classical Parisian café music. The show tells the audience the story of Bal Musette, particularly during the war years with Edith Piaf and the link between Scotland and the genre.
Bring your own food and drink and make it a truly Parisian afternoon.
